Read the text and answer the questions. (4-6)

Q4:

Miners have long played an essential role in extracting valuable resources from the earth. The process begins with exploration, where they locate mineral deposits. Once a suitable site is found, miners work tirelessly to remove materials like coal, gold, and iron ore. Mining can be an extremely dangerous profession, with risks such as cave-ins, exposure to harmful gases, and accidents. Despite the dangers, miners are dedicated to their work, as the resources they extract are critical for industries worldwide. Mining has evolved over the centuries, with advanced machinery and technology now in use to improve safety and efficiency. However, it remains a physically demanding job that requires hard work and perseverance

What is the primary role of miners? (4 points)

- A) To locate new cities.
- B) To extract valuable resources from the earth.
- C) To create new technologies.
- D) To protect the environment from mining.

The moon has been a source of fascination for humans for centuries. II. It orbits the Earth and affects many aspects of life, such as tides and night lighting. III. Scientists have studied the moon extensively to learn about its formation and its impact on Earth. IV. In recent years, space missions have been launched to explore the moon's surface and gather data. V. There are also theories that suggest the moon may contain valuable resources that could be mined for future space exploration. VI. Despite all these studies, the moon still holds many mysteries that scientists have yet to fully understand.

Which sentence ruins the paragraph from becoming a well-structured paragraph?

(7 points)

- A) Sentence I
- B) Sentence II
- C) Sentence IV
- D) Sentence V

CONCLUSIONS

Q7: Sentence V

Sentence V introduces a speculative idea about mining resources, which disrupts the logical flow of the paragraph that focuses on the scientific significance and exploration of the moon.

SOLUTION IS D
